Start Tomorrow and Keep It Up Every Morning

Get in the habit of drinking a glass of hot water before breakfast.

We're not here long, so let's make our stay agreeable. Let us live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, and look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste, and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious apoplexy, stomach trouble; others who have yellow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of inside-bathing before breakfast.—(Adv.)

The program for the annual road conference at the University of Tennessee is arranged for two days, Feb. 14 and 15. During the three days previous to the conference, Feb. 11, 12, 13, A. M. Nelson, state highway engineer, will offer instruction in the maintenance of the different types of road surfaces, beginning with earth and progressing from earth to the higher types of surfaces. This instruction will consist of two lectures each day, and is given especially for the benefit of the patrolman or the man actually performing the work of maintenance.

RED CROSS CLINIC TO BE ESTABLISHED HERE

Newly Equipped Department at Erlanger Also To Be Opened This Week.

On recommendation of the surgeon-general of the United States public health service, the department has appropriated $2,000 for the establishment of a Red Cross clinic in Chattanooga for the treatment of social diseases.

Dr. C. P. Knight, who is in charge of the public health work in this zone, has been appointed director of this new unit, and Rev. W. J. Loaring Clark, of this city, fiscal officer. Dr. Clark will open his office at 326 Volunteer building. In addition to these two members of the staff named there will be a male and female clinic nurse at a salary of $100 per month each. The sum of $1,200 out of the amount appropriated will be used for the medical supplies. Approximately $600 has been set aside for transportation and miscellaneous items. The clinic will be known as "Red Cross."

Why Chilly Weather Brings Rheumatism

Says skin pores are closed and uric acid remains in blood.

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. If not the most dangerous of human afflictions, it is one of the most painful. Those subjected to rheumatism should eat less meat, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and, above all, drink lots of pure water. Rheumatism is caused by uric acid which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are fast means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinges of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent, little water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.—(Adv.)

M'REYNOLDS DELIVERS TELLING BLOW TO PREVAILING SOCIAL EVILS

Charges Grand Jury to Make a Thorough Investigation Into Conditions—Duty Inquisitorial Body Owe Country Stressed in Instructions.

For the first time in fifteen years a negro will serve on the Hamilton county grand jury. The negro is Arthur Hixon, a resident of the Soddy precinct and one of that district's most respected citizens and farmers. His name was the first one drawn Tuesday and as no one objected and he expressed no desire to be relieved from service he was told to take his seat.

W. P. Hays, former county clerk, was selected as foreman of the grand jury, and immediately after Judge McReynolds' charge the jury went into session, there being something like four hundred cases to be investigated by the inquisitorial body.

The present session of the grand jury will be one of the most important in the history of the county.

Little "Billy" Howard, who lives next door to the jail, drew the jury from a hat in which all the names of those summoned were placed. The first six names drawn by the little fellow all began with "H" and it looked for a while as if the name of every member of the grand jury would begin with an "H."

E. G. McCaslon was selected on the grand jury but when told by Judge McReynolds to hold up his hand promptly stated that he was of such religious belief that he could not conscientiously take the oath. He was told to step down off the stand and another jurymen drawn in his place.

After the swearing in of the grand jury Judge McReynolds gave one of the strongest charges ever delivered to a Hamilton county grand jury. His charge touched all forms of violations, but especially upon the vice conditions throughout the entire county. He stated it was imperative that immoral women be taken off the streets and confined somewhere away from the soldiers. Judge McReynolds made a special appeal to the members of the bar association regarding bonds where it was shown that women were of unsound health. Regarding the social evils throughout the county Judge McReynolds said, in substance:

"Another question which I desire to call your special attention to is the social evil existing here in the city of Chattanooga, and I want to say to you that this must demand your fullest investigation because of the conditions existing."

"As you are aware, we are now in the midst of a great war, and our soldiers are being mobilized, trained and sent to Europe. Everything in our power must be done to keep them clean at all times, but it is more important at this time because of present conditions. Many cases will come before you on the charge of lewdness or vagrancy, which in normal times might seem to you frivolous, but at present are of the greatest importance. We must clean up this town if possible, and keep it so."

APPELLING CONDITIONS. "A great many of the women who are being caught here have been examined by the government doctor, and reports are appalling. You will make your investigation in reference to these people very carefully, and wherever you find that they are guilty, it will be your duty to return indictments into this court, in order that proper disposition may be made of them. Quite a crusade has been going on for some time, trying to eliminate this source of evil, but it cannot be done to any extent except by the earnest cooperation of you as jurors and of all officers and good citizens. The government is doing its part, and this court is undertaking to cooperate with the government in this character. If you find these cases, and which have been spread by this class of women, have been of the very worst kind. So I say to you that this will be one of the main complaints to come before your body."

PROTECTION OF GIRLS. "There is another side of this also, which will likely come before you for investigation, and that is the protection of a great many of our girls of this community. While of course we are all willing to take off our hats to the man who wears the colors and who engages in this great conflict, yet there are those among these, as well as others, who need to be taught a lesson in reference to girls of former good character. Regardless of what a man is or what he may do, whenever he brings a young girl to ruin, I want you to feel that he too should be indicted and caused to pay severely for this ruined girl or, perhaps, ruined home. There are instances of this kind which have recently occurred in this community, so I am informed, and I feel that our young girls are entitled to protection, and whenever the proof is sufficient before you to lead to the guilty party indictment should be returned and proper examples made of men of this character. I am informed that some young girls only 14 years old are now being cared for, expecting soon to become mothers. This is dreadful to think about, and the protection of girls of this kind is demanded. I am informed, further, that even some mothers have permitted their daughters to be used for immoral purposes, and if such be true, then a mother who has not more character, more respect for herself and children, and love for them, should be severely dealt with.

"These questions, gentlemen of the jury, will confront you, and I trust you will use every effort in your investigations, not only to protect the soldiers, but also to protect the young girls."

INTERN WOMEN. "I am trusting that soon arrangements will be made by which these diseased women, and men as well, may be interned during the period of the war. They are as great a menace to our soldiers at present as the German enemy. This court has no right to intern them, and if convicted they can only be punished for a certain time; but if the federal government would take charge of this matter, by passing a statute enabling them to take charge of diseased people wherever they come in contact with soldiers, and intern them, in my opinion it would solve the situation. The disease which is being spread will take a generation to get over. Not only for the protection of the soldiers, but for the protection of the public, diseased people of this character should be in confinement."
